

LOGIC MODEL

SITUATION: Statewide statistics show overwhelming numbers of domestic violence, child sexual abuse, and child neglect among Alaska Native / American Indian residents.

INPUTS	OUTPUTS		OUTCOMES / IMPACT
	Activities	Participation	Short Term	Long Term
Staff Volunteers Time Finances Research Curriculum Equipment Travel	Trainings Support Groups Workshops Presentations Aftercare	Volunteer Learning Circle Facilitators Natural Helpers Adults Alaska Regions Agencies Churches College Students Clinicians	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Building awareness and community commitment to address domestic violence, abuse, and neglect 2. Assessing the community's readiness to make changes 3. Educate and train Alaska Native areas to proactively address their community's child abuse and neglect problems locally 4. Developing culturally appropriate resources within Native 	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Affect change in violence and abuse at a variety of levels: Individual - Family-Community -State. 2. Elimination of family violence and child maltreatment in Native communities within this generation 3. Reversing the effects of historical trauma and unresolved grief 4. Break the cycles of violence and abuse that have existed over several generations in the Alaska Native villages

			communities to address the problems Increase statewide awareness by identifying participants to attend trainings <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 5. Developing family strengths and protective factors 6. Generate and distribute tools on DV and abuse awareness and prevention: ie. provide the Native community with resources to reduce levels of child abuse and neglect through the development of protective factors, building of resiliency, and the reduction of risk factors associated with domestic violence and child abuse 7. Providing social support: Expand statewide volunteer / Natural Helper involvement for being a learning circle facilitator and 	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 5. Become a model on restorative processes 6. All Alaskan communities, families and individuals are free from the harmful effects of substance abuse, dependency and addiction. 7. Alaska children, youth and adults are mentally healthy and living successfully. 8. All community members are connected, resilient and having basic life skills.
--	--	--	--	---

			Increase the number of FWWI learning circles across the state
IMPORTANT ASSUMPTIONS:			EXTERNAL FACTORS:
Men will be considered part of the solution to ending domestic violence, child sexual abuse, and child neglect, not part of the problem. Restorative processes should be approached from a holistic view to attain wellness. Alaska Native people must lead the way in order for Alaska Native people to attain wellness. (comment about harm) Harms experienced and committed must be discussed openly devoid of guilt, shame, and blame.			Preexisting beliefs that those who harm cannot be restored to a healthy style of relating. Eschew the terms victim and perpetrator - maltreatment is cyclical and often those who harm others were themselves harmed earlier in the cycle	